FLORIDA TOURISTS
WILL BE ROUTED
OVER "BEE LINE" IS ANNOUNCEMENT

Van Valkenberg Makes Public
His Association's Change of Policy

200,000 TOURISTS ARE TO COME THIS WAY

Action is Direct Aftermath of Recent Enthusiastic Meeting Here

The Bee Line route, at last, is coming into its own.

Peyton K. Van Valkenberg, secretary and manager of the Florida State Automobile Association, has announced that his organization will in the future route tourists through Dothan, Troy, Montgomery, Birmingham, Albany, Decatur, Athens, Pulaski, Columbia and into Nashville. The Florida organization is discontinuing the routing of tourists through Atlanta, Rome, Gadsden, Guntersville and Huntsville to Nashville.

The announcement of Mr. Van Valkenberg is one of the most important ever made in connection with the fate of the Bee Line route southward to the gulf. It means that when a few bad spots, to which Mr. Van Valkenberg calls attention, are remedied that approximately 200,000 tourists will make the Southern overland journey over the short line to Florida.

The announcement is a direct aftermath of the recent movement launched here at a meeting of highway enthusiasts from two states when a permanent organization was perfected, with Mr. Stiefelmeyer, of Cullman, as president, to advertise the Bee Line route and to see that it is kept in the best possible condition for the convenience of tourists through this section.

The decision of the Florida organization is a signal victory for the route. Mr. Van Valkenberg says: "Our Association routes the vast majority of the great winter automobile traffic to Florida. Half of the travel to Florida in the winter is by automobile and we do the routing, because being a Florida organization, the easterners naturally write to us which way to come."

L. W. Borton and Henry Davis are in Birmingham today holding a conference with Mr. Van Valkenberg regarding the improvements he desires in the route. Joseph Dobbins, secretary of the Birmingham Automobile club has given assurances to Mr. Van Valkenberg that the objectionable sections of the route in southeast Alabama have been eradicated.

The statement of the Florida secretary follows:

"I have just come over the new route which we propose adopting. The road to Atlanta is all right, but it is rough between there and Nashville. We have definitely decided to abandon that. I came to Birmingham as pathfinder over the route from Dothan to Montgomery, to Birmingham, to Decatur and found it, even with the small bad gaps, better than the road via Waycross, Atlanta, Rome, Gadsden, Guntersville and Huntsville.

"I came here to get the assurance of the Birmingham Automobile club with regard to the bad places between here and Cullman and those in southeastern Alabama. I have been assured that the latter have been fixed and that the others are about to be fixed.

"If these small stretches of bad road are eliminated, the Birmingham route from Nashville to Florida will be much better than the road from Nashville to Atlanta via Gadsden and Rome.

"Our association routes the vast majority of the great winter automobile traffic to Florida. Half the travel to Florida in the winter is by automobile and we do the routing, because, being a Florida organization, the

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 14.—Positive denial that he is the father of 33 months old J. Leeds, son of Mrs. Florence Leeds, former chorus girl, is to be made by James A. Stillman, when Mrs. N. Stillman summons him to testify in her counter suit for divorce, it was announced today.

Mrs. Leeds, is to corroborate Stillman in his denial and in return will swear that a New York theatrical man, Franklin Harold Leeds, by name, is really the father of her child. Mrs. Leeds, it is understood, will testify that Stillman is merely the god-father of Little Jay.

A dramatic climax to the testimony is promised when Franklin Harold Leeds himself on the stand swears that he is really the father of Jay.

NEWSPAPER IDEAL OF ALL ADVERTISING
MEDIUM, HE SAYS

ATLANTA, GA., June 14.—The daily newspaper is the most nearly ideal of all advertising mediums for a bank, in the opinion of G. Prather Knapp, of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., St. Louis, whose work as a bank advertising man has won him a national reputation. He spoke at this afternoon, before the financial advertising division of the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

The world convention of advertising which opened its business meetings here yesterday, and will continue through Thursday, is attended by advertisers, newspaper men and others from all sections of North America and there are in attendance, also, representatives from other parts of the world, for there is no place in the world where advertising has been developed as it has been in North America and publishers and others from overseas recognize the great opportunity which they have to learn about advertising from North Americans.

Today, the convention has divided itself into group meetings for the intensive study of the advertising of various classes of business institutions.

Newspapers Reach the People.
"The daily newspaper," said Mr. Knapp, "is the principal bank advertising medium for the reason that, like the average bank, it is a strictly local institution, and covers the local field regularly. It reaches the people to whom a bank must tell its story. The daily newspaper has become a part of the life of most of the people in every American community. The bank desires, in like manner, to become a part of their lives, and needs to use the daily paper to reach the people. We can also learn lessons of public service from the daily newspapers."

The remarkable growth of the popularity of moving picture films, in connection with small hand projectors, in the sale of goods otherwise hard to explain, was discussed before the screen advertising division of the convention this morning by A. E. Gundelach, of the DeVry Corporation, of Chicago.

As he spoke, he said, there are salesmen out in the rural districts, showing to farmers at their homes and at grange meetings the advantage of farm electrical equipment. These salesmen travel in automobiles that are equipped to generate the electricity required to project the pictures, he said. The films tell the story of the comfort and convenience of farm electric lighting plants, and explain the operation of such plants in such detail as would be almost impossible except with the use of films. The films also make the story entertaining.

The double scoring system, providing for two or more official scorers, instead of one, loomed today as a possibility in the Alabama-Tennessee league, unless some way is discovered to check the base hit carnival now showing in the A-T loop. The Twins yesterday defeated Columbia 12 to 11, but required an even dozen runs, 16 hits and five errors by the Mules to accomplish the purpose. During the fray Manager Smith came near pitching everybody on his roster except himself and the bat boy in a vain endeavor to stem the tide of safeties. Manager McDuff had no easy sailing either, being forced to call on Moseley to relieve Sells in the first.

The Mules found the pasture to their liking and appeared ready to graze there for the rest of their natural lives and before Mose could get Clark to whiff, they had hit safely six times and had counted four. It was a great inning—for Columbia, but the Twins had an even greater one in the fifth when they counted eight times.

What a game! In the old days, a baseball game was won only after one side had made 21 runs, it mattered not whether the team required an inning, a day or a week to make 'em. The grandias would have found something familiar about yesterday's contest. Every member of the Twin contingent who had a chance at the plate got a hit. DeDaniel and Clarke won notoriety by failing to connect safely for the Mules. All of the others did.

Sells pitched to Flow, Drayton, Baker, Smith, Freeman, Huckaba and Lee. Sells was using what Henry Vance once described as a "comback" ball. Every one pitched came back. All hit safely, except Drayton and Smith—they merely ran Lewis and McClain to the fence after their flies. Then Moseley went into the box and fanned Clarke, ending a very tempestuous inning.

Lewis' double, McDuff's infield out and Eak's single to third counted one run in the first. In the third the Mules scored two more on Baker's triple, a squeeze, sacrifice and Huckaba's single.

The Twins made it 6-2 in the fourth on Lee's error on Eak's grounder and McClain's single. Then in the fifth Lewis doubled, McDuff single, McClain singled, Carter singled, Lauderdale singled, Johnston singled, Moseley singled and these with a couple of errors and a fielder's choice, netted the Twins eight runs.

Now for the most remarkable part of the entire encounter! Your attention is directed to the fact that despite the scoring of some 11 runs and 15

A stray local pup this morning entered the competition for championship diving honors.

The canine in some manner got on the second story gallery in the Kentucky block and attracted the attention of pedestrians by his howls. Before he could be taken down, he decided to "jump for it" and jump he did.

The pup landed on his feet and after shaking his hair down after the leap, appeared to be none the worse for wear.

CHICAGO, June 14.—With Timothy D. (Big Tim) Murphy, political boss and labor leader, again under arrest, postal authorities expressed the conviction today that they had seized the brains of the postal bandits operating in the Chicago district and had cleared up the Polk street postoffice robbery when $330,000 loot was taken.

In a raid on the home of Big Tim's father-in-law Federal agents recovered $112,000 in cash and bonds. Murphy confessed early today according to postal authorities that he was implicated in the Polk street mail robbery. Murphy, postal inspectors said, denied he took part in the actual hold-up perpetrated by half a dozen men. Two mail clerks have made confession, postal inspectors said, naming Big Tim, not only in the Polk street robbery, but also in the $100,000 mail hold-up at Pullman.

Until yesterday, Murphy was at liberty under $200,000 bond. His arrest followed the confession of Ralph Foster, a railway mail clerk dupe, who positively identified Murphy as the ring leader of the mail bandit's gang. As a result of the alleged Murphy confession, Lieutenant John Norton and a squad of detective started out today for a series of raids in which they hoped to make additional arrests and seize more of the mail robbery proceeds.

(International News Service)
DENVER, COL., June 14.—Irish sympathizers, draping the Sinn Fein colors above the English union jack in the convention hall of the American Federation of Labor, today served notice they intend making the Irish question paramount even to the labor problem to the annual convocation of America's great labor body.

A fight over the Irish resolutions to be presented will be a contest between Samuel Gompers and Eamon DeValera, president of the Irish republic, to determine which one of them shall dictate the Irish policies of the federation, according to developments. As was rumored the resolutions provide for the appointment of a labor commission of three to be selected by the convention to go to England and Ireland to co-operate in action with the British and Irish trade unions. It also provides for the publication of a list of British made goods sold in this country and the firms selling them in each issue of the Federationist, the official organ of the federation, together with a proclamation of boycott against them.

Capital Stirred
by Austin Charge
City is Wide Open

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 14.—Montgomery discussed one thing today—the address of C. W. Austin, chief of the state constabulary, at the Bee Line meeting in which he charged that the capital city was a wide open town, that the wide open element are in control, that an outsider, one holding no official position, is the boss and that law enforcement has received little support from those in authority.

Business was suspended much of the day and persons could be seen in small groups on the streets in discussions of the charges. More than two thousand persons have already signed pledges calling upon the city commission to close the moving picture shows and swimming pools on Sunday and to enforce the state laws relating to the observance of the Sabbath. The ministers' union of Montgomery held a special meeting Monday in which it declared that the time had come when the officials should enforce the laws or resign.

No official comment on the Austin address was made, but it was understood that a reply will be made. City and county officials were in conference during the day, though refused to make any statement. It had been reported that Mr. Austin would make charges against those in authority in Montgomery and hundreds of persons had been attracted to the tabernacle.

Mr. Austin charged that his department had attempted to enforce the prohibition and other laws in Montgomery but could not get convictions, that his men had been hampered in every way possible and that he had been informed the juries of this county would not convict persons charged with violations of the prohibition laws. He gave names and places where it is alleged liquors are sold or houses of ill reputation are operated. He said two-thirds of the hotels of Montgomery are blind tigers and houses of prostitution. He charged that officials of the sheriff's department had refused to receive his prisoners when they had been arrested by members of the state constabulary and that many times his men have been forced to stay up all night with persons accused of offenses against the laws.

There was much talk of a big mass meeting for the purpose of thrashing out the issues raised by the address. Montgomery has been stirred as never before. Supporters of the city and county officials insist that there is no truth to the charges, but the thousands at the tabernacle observed Mr. Austin as he gave the names and places and when he was almost through with his address cried "Go on, go on."

LEGIONNAIRES AND SPENCER CLUB TO CONTEST FOR TITLE

The disputed amateur title will be settled at the Y. M. C. A. park Saturday when the Spencer Athletic club and the American Legion play for the city championship, it was announced today, following a meeting last night when the city league was disbanded.

The Spencer Club and the Legionnaires have played several engagements this year, one of them going ten innings to a 6-6 no decision end. That was the opening game of the city league season. The Spencer club won the next two games, the Legionnaires copping on the fourth meeting of the squads.

Tickets were placed on sale today, the Legion's share of the proceeds going into the home building fund of the Morgan County post.

The meetings of the two teams have always been attended with much interest among the local fan flock and it was expected that the championship game Saturday will be witnessed by one of the biggest crowds ever attending an amateur engagement here.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 14.—The invitation extended by the League of Nations several months ago for an American representative to sit in the mandate discussions of the League when it convenes at Geneva this week, probably will meet with a polite refusal, it was strongly indicated at the state department today.

The Supreme council and not the league of Nations is the proper body to undertake an American representative, according to the views of the administration as seen here today.

Col. George Harvey is personal representative of the President on the council and is empowered to represent the views of the United States to the allied statesmen.

JOHN G. EMORY IS NEW COMMANDER
AMERICAN LEGION

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 14.—

John G. Emory, of Grand Rapids, Mich., today was elected national commander of the American Legion. The Grand Rapids man, who was one of the five national vice commanders of the Legion, was chosen by acclamation by the executive committee of the Legion, to succeed Frederick W. Galbreath, national commander, who met a tragic death in an automobile accident here last Thursday.

Emory appeared very calm at the morning session of court and frequently prompted his attorney on interrogation of witnesses.

The defense is expected to close their side of the trial today.

Mrs. M. Seay, mother of the accused man, took the stand on opening of the afternoon session of the trial yesterday. She gave a detailed history of the life of Seay. She told of his being in an asylum in St. Louis in 1916 and of being in a hospital in Hot Springs several times.

She said he enlisted in the navy in the fall of 1917 and was sent to the Great Lakes training station. Naval doctors sent for her in the fall of 1918, witness said, saying that Seay had a mental breakdown and that she then placed him in the Hot Springs hospital. He was released from the hospital in January 1919, perfectly normal and came to Florence where, witness stated, she had moved.

He stayed in Florence until August 1919, she said, and then went to Texas with his father and worked there until January, 1920. He then returned to Florence where in August, 1920, he married Miss Williams and had been seemingly normal until a few days before the crime.

His first symptom of mental disorder was the Tuesday evening before the crime, witness said. He was walking with her and his wife, when he suddenly threw them both away from him and said he felt like two navy fellows were taking him to the barracks to lock him up.

Mrs. Seay recited troubles between Seay and his wife a few days before the crime, but said these were finally settled. She did not suspect any further trouble until hearing of the disappearance of the couple.

Officers were at her house when Seay arrived and was arrested, she said, but the question of whether she had asked them to come was not permitted by the court. She stated that she did not tell officers that Seay had FLORENCE, ALA., June 14.—A near sensation was caused this morning at the opening of the fifth day of the trial of F. W. Seay, charged with the murder of his 19 year old wife. The feature was the entrance into the courtroom of Mrs. P. F. McNamara, beautiful woman, sister of the accused man, who entered and took the witness stand. Seay, himself, appeared the most surprised. He arose from his seat and stood smiling. She looked at him and broke down, sobbing audibly. She lost her composure completely and was unable to testify during the morning.

(International News Service)

FLORENCE, ALA., June 14.—The first witness to take the stand this morning in the trial of F. W. Seay, charged with the murder of his wife was John M. Smith, of Hot Springs, Ark., who stated that he had worked with Seay in Palestine, O., in 1916.

Smith said Seay had acted queerly from the time he arrived at Palestine until he was finally taken to Hot Springs to an asylum.

A. M. Jackson, of Russellville, Ark., was next placed on the stand. He testified that he had known Seay for a long time and that from his observation, he believed Seay was insane.

Seay appeared very calm at the morning session of court and frequently prompted his attorney on interrogation of witnesses.

The defense is expected to close their side of the trial today.

INDIVIDUAL EXPRESSIONS OF OPINION AMOUNT TO NOTHING

Opinions divorced from facts amount to nothing. And facts unsupported amount to everything. The expressions of Admiral Sims, as reported, do not deal in facts so nothing is to be gained by paying much attention to what he said in his English-Speaking Union address. Admiral Sims came in for a great deal of criticism when he had his notable controversy with former Secretary of the Navy Daniels, and he will be severely criticized for his now famous "jackass" speech.

A great many will conclude that he was talking of his betters when he loosened up, and a great many will side with Sims, but what will it amount to? When the whole matter simmers down, it will be recognized that Admiral Sims talked pretty freely at some European dinner and that will be all. No international difficulties will arise because of what he said or what he did not say.

There was a time when the expressions of an American Rear Admiral would have been given serious consideration—but that was back in the days of autocracy, when a few men and some times a few women diplomats controlled the foreign policy of a nation. Nobody believes that Sims, despite his being an officer of the navy, spoke for any one except himself. This will be clear, when it is realized that what Ambassador Harvey said in his Pilgrim day speech, was regarded as merely what Harvey thought and wished to say. And Mr. Harvey, bear in mind was supposed to be the official spokesman of the President. That he was not, is evidenced by the fact, that Mr. Harding, a few days after the Harvey speech, expressed himself in just an opposite way from the sentiments of his ambassador.

Sims was on leave of absence when he spoke. He was in England to receive some kind of a university degree. An admiral has never been the spokesman of this government, especially not one who was off on a vacation. Nothing was done about Harvey, because of his speech at the Pilgrim day dinner, and it will be difficult to do anything of a serious nature, with Admiral Sims on his return to Washington. If the precedents of the past are followed he will doubtless be reprimanded, for he said the same thing as he did when he was called down by his government about ten years ago. In that instance Mr. Sims was making a brag about how the English speaking nations would "run this round globe," and the following quotation from his recent speech, will show that he has gotten back to his old hobby once again:

Eleven years ago I made a prophecy that came true. I will venture on another now. The English-speaking peoples are coming together in the bonds of comradeship, and they are going to run this round globe.

Whatever is done, however, with Admiral Sims personally, no government and few individuals will take any part of his notable speech, any more seriously, than to consider that private individual William S. Sims, talked pretty freely at some dinner party given in his honor in the country of England.

AMERICA LIKES SWEETS

Whether prohibition has caused an increase in the consumption of sugar or whether America simply as a nation is a lover of sweets will find adherents, but the fact remains that the consumption of sugar in the United States is increasing rapidly.

It will make a new high record in the fiscal year ending with this month. The quantity imported from foreign countries, says a statement by The National City Bank of New York, was greater in the ten months for which figures are now available than in the corresponding period of any preceding year. The domestic production of the year was bigger than ever before and the exportation only about one-half that of the corresponding ten months of the preceding year. These official figures of the ten months' imports and exports plus the domestic production for which a record is already established, adds the bank's statement, give a net total available for consumption so much in excess of any earlier year that we may not be surprised if the official figures showing the average per capita consumption in the fiscal year 1921 run up nearly to 100 pounds per capita against 91½ pounds per capita in the fiscal year 1920, the former high record year, 82 pounds in 1919, and 89 pounds per capita in the high record pre-war year 1914.

This increase in sugar available for consumption in 1921 as against the already established record of 91½ pounds per capita for the fiscal year 1920 is not due to material increases in imports from foreign countries or our islands but to increased domestic production and a big fall off in the exports. While the records of imports from foreign countries do show an increase of 23,000,000 pounds in the ten months ending with April, 1921, as compared with the corresponding ten months in the fiscal year 1920, the former high record year, the imports from our islands in the same period show a slight reduction, suggesting that the total quantity of sugar brought into continental United States in the fiscal year 1921 will not differ materially from that of the fiscal year 1920, but the fact that the domestic production in the past year exceeded that of any earlier year by about a half billion pounds and that the exports in the current fiscal year are only about one-half those of 1920, makes it apparent that the quantity available for consumption in the fiscal year 1921 will materially exceed that of any preceding year.

One especially striking feature of this prospective new high record in sugar consumption lies, adds the bank's statement, in the fact that it has been made in the face of and in spite of the highest prices for sugar known in the experience of the present generation.

A HUMANE EXECUTION

This is not an argument for or against capital punishment, but merely a comment upon the new method of inflicting legal death as determined recently by the state of Nevada. Nevada has at least endeavored to be accommodating, and for a long time gave the condemned his choice of the rope or a firing squad; in either event the duty of the sheriff was very unpleasant. In the firing squad one cartridge was supposed to be a blank, to give each member a chance to feel his was the harmless one, yet none could escape the suspicion that his shot had been deadly after all. Even so, it had several advantages over hanging, as every one realizes who ever witnessed an execution of this kind. Too often the condemned, almost more dead than alive, has to be carried bodily to the platform, and propped up in a chair until the trap is sprung. Hanging was in vogue when it was the penalty for stealing a sheep, and was intended, by its very hideousness, to put the fear of the law into the hearts of all beholders. But it was seldom humane; so much depended upon the skill with which the noose was adjusted, and the executioner's experience. What with frequent elections and new officials, few had opportunity to become reliable administrators. With the knot at a certain vulnerable spot, a quick jerk of the falling body will break the neck, causing instant death. But necks, like sheriffs, differ, and the solar plexus of the neck cannot be located with a tap measure; moreover, the nervous executioner, anxious to have the ordeal over with, is often clumsy, with the result that the victim not only pays the penalty of his life, but instead of sudden death, he slowly strangles, which requires several minutes—an ordeal hardly less terrible for the witnesses than the prisoner. One who has witnessed four executions by hanging, tells me that in only one case was the neck broken and death instantaneous; in each of the three other executions the condemned slowly strangled in torture too awful to describe, and yet the same sheriff officiated in each case.

Anyone at all familiar with the various forms of execution which have been used in this country could not hesitate a moment between such a death, or the bloody, noisy firing squad, and the new Nevada way, in which the relentless hand of the law steals in tenderly and unrecognized. And yet, certain writers have worked themselves into almost a frenzy, with pictures of terrified days and sleepless nights and "tortures of the imagination." The Nevada law provides for a death chamber where the condemned is to be confined for from 60 to 90 days. At some hour after the 60 days, preferably while asleep at night, an odorless gas, which causes no pain, which cannot even be detected, is let into the chamber, and death occurs without a suggestion of discomfort. The condemned simply sleeps on or falls asleep and does not awaken.

These writers with the vivid imagination and more anxious to make a sensational story than calmly consider the actual facts, picture the mental agony of coming death because the exact moment is unknown. Yet, each of us who reads these words must die, although we do not know how or when. Yet the thought of the inevitable, when we do think of it, does not destroy our happiness nor change our plan of life. The psychology of the death chamber partakes of this, even though the method and the approximate time are known.

Hundreds of cases are in evidence where the condemned hoped for, and many counted on, a reprieve which never came. The gas chamber does not withhold that hope. The most desperate criminals usually display the least nerve, and are most fearful of physical suffering: the gas chamber promises a painless death. The gas execution will be found to cause the prisoner the least apprehension possible. The first few weeks he knows he is immune, and by that time the end still seems afar off. The hearty breakfast which most to-be-executed men demand, indicates how easy it is to divert the mind from the great event to trivial things.

The gas can be counted on to accomplish its mission a day, or several days, before the condemned anticipates his end, with the chances that on the fatal night he will find his pillow as soft, and sleep as welcome and undisturbed as the many nights previous, from which he awoke. The element of fatalism is inevitable, and a submission to "what will be, will be." The state of Nevada deserves the thanks of her sister states, and those which still have nothing better than a rope should humbly follow her example.—By H. H. Windsor, in the July Popular Mechanics Magazine.

"If," says a telephone guy, "you stop and count ten before bawling out the operator for not giving you your number promptly it will improve both your temper and the service." Commodore Preble's Temper.

The hasty temper of that early hero of the United States navy, Commodore Preble, says a writer in the Boston Herald, furnishes the basis for an amusing story that people of the older generation used to enjoy telling.

The old sea fighter, it seems, was a testy chap. One afternoon his wife was entertaining several lady callers at their Portland home. Just as they were going out they heard a tremendous racket on the floor above, and down the front stairs came crashing a large and very solid table. It badly frightened the callers, who were lingering in the hall for a parting word.

"Why, Commodore Preble!" cried his wife, "what are you doing?" "That, Mrs. Preble," roared the commodore, "is my blasted temper!"

YOU certainly want to save money, and you would like to have better bakings. Then use Calumet. It's the biggest thing you can do to improve the quality of your bakings—and lower baking costs. Calumet is made in the largest, most sanitary Baking Powder Factories in the World. No Baking Powder is made under better conditions—none can be better in quality. It contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by the U. S. Pure Food Authorities. An absolute guarantee that it is pure.

RAISES THE QUALITY—LOWERS THE COST OF ALL BAKINGS

It received highest Awards, World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago—Paris Exposition, Paris, France—positive proof of its superior merit.

It is used by more housewives and domestic scientists than any other brand.

It is sold at a moderate price. All you have to do is to compare costs to determine how much you can save by buying Calumet.

Gluten is the muscle building part of flour which is of great importance. To be sure you get it in your bakings use plain flour and good baking powder, (not self-rising flour).

Calumet Crown Cake Recipe—3 cups pastry flour, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 cup cold water, Whites of 8 eggs, 1 teaspoon orange extract. Then mix in the regular way.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH.

The Women's Missionary Society of Central M. E. church met in the home of Mrs. Virginia Graham, Monday June the 13th at 3 p. m. Miss Gronendyke conducted the devotionals reading a lesson from Nehemiah. The third chapter of the church and community was the lesson, co-operation the theme. It was an intensely interesting lesson. Miss Gronendyke was so well prepared and brought out the points so fully all enjoyed the lesson. A vivid picture was drawn of what co-operation would bring to us as individuals as a community and as a church. A brief business session followed in which a few items of interest were dispatched, at the close of which the society adjourned repeating the Lord's prayer in concert.

WONDERS OF AMERICA

By T. T. MAXEY

UNCLE SAM'S GIANT WIRELESS

AT GREENBURY POINT, near Annapolis, Maryland, is located the great high-power radio station, owned and operated by Uncle Sam. Built as a war measure, for the insurance of uninterrupted communication with our army in France, in the event that for any reason the cables were put out of commission, as well as to provide added facilities for keeping in touch with and directing the movements of vessels at sea, it has successfully bridged the seas of the world and "made good."

Four gigantic steel towers 600 feet high, set 850 feet apart and in the form of a square, support the massive web of super-sensitive wires from which outgoing electric waves "hop off" into space and to which the incoming waves from afar are attracted. The energy by which the station is operated is obtained from a nearby power plant—a suitable operating building, power-transformer house, quarters for the maintaining and operating forces, store house for repair materials and other necessary equipment having been erected at an advantageous and adjacent location.

The far-reaching importance of this miracle-like station which performs the seemingly impossible comes home to one when he understands that it successfully handles radio traffic direct with France, Italy, Germany, Norway, other radio stations in this country and its outlying possessions and all U. S. Navy and all properly-equipped merchant and other vessels, no matter in what far-away part of the world they may be located.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. LURIE

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

THE USE OF "THE."

THIS little word, which is called by grammarians the definite article, is often misused, being placed in sentences where it does not belong, and being left out where it should be used. Often such misuse causes misunderstanding of the meaning of the writer or speaker. For example, suppose you say, "The president and secretary of the lodge attended the meeting." This is correct if the offices of president and secretary are united in one person; that is, if there is one man who is both president and secretary. But if there are two men, one of whom is the president and the other is the secretary, the sentence should read, "The president and the secretary of the lodge attended the meeting." The article should be repeated; then there is no room for misunderstanding the speaker or the writer.

When we say, "The black and white horse," we mean one horse which is marked with the two colors; but when we say, "The black horse and the white horse," we mean two horses, one black and one white.

Gold Mining Now Prosaic.

There is scant romance in gold mining today, when natural science has taken the place of pioneerism and chance. There is none at all in the recently published statement of a San Francisco magnate who announced that his workmen and expert geologists had blocked out $6,000,000 worth of ore in one Arizona mountain in the last two years, and that excavation and the production of bullion would now begin.

COTTON MARKET SHOWS ADVANCE

(International News Service)
 NEW YORK, June 14.—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of five to ten points, influenced by cables from Liverpool, which were somewhat better than had been expected; further complaints about boll weevil, especially from the southwest and a stronger tone to foreign exchange. There was buying by Wall street and trade, the latter principally in July and October and also scattered local covering. Trading as a whole was not active, but prices after the start ruled about steady in the absence of pressure. There was moderate switching from July to later deliveries.

Earliest New England Dwellings.

It is generally thought that the first kind of dwelling built by the early settlers in New England were to: cabins, but as a matter of fact, these pioneers often felt obliged to wait until after they had reaped their first harvests before they took the time to erect anything so durable and elaborate as a weather-tight cabin. Like the primitive people of southern Europe, like the Indians of Mexico, they used what caves they could find. But often they merely dug in, finding a shelter much as the armies in France did during the war.

had two crazy spells, one from drinking and another from dope.

Mary Frances White, a young woman of Florence, was next placed on the stand. She said she had been with Seay and his wife the afternoon of the murder and that he appeared normal.

F. W. Seay, father of the accused man was next on the stand and detailed a story of his son's life tallying with his wife's version.

Mrs. J. M. Haddock of Florence, followed Seay on the stand and told of seeing Seay and his wife at the start of the fatal walk, from which she never returned. Seay appeared rational, she said.

Mrs. Alder was the last witness heard yesterday. She told of hearing Mrs. A. A. Williams, mother of the murdered woman, say that "if he hasn't killed my child, he'll go to Tuscaloosa in the morning."

Policeman Owen Broadhurst, on the stand, stated that Mrs. Seay had said that Seay had been off twice before, once for drugs and once for drinking. He stated that Mrs. Seay told this to others while he was listening at her home the night of the murder. Policeman Young, who was also present at the Seay home the night of the murder, said he also heard Mrs. Seay say that her son was "off again."

A Mr. McGee, a shoe salesman living in the same apartments with Seay, preceded the policemen and said he advised having an officer at the apartment for protection.

Hamilton Howell, 16, also took the stand and testified as to his belief in Seay's sanity.

The commission's circular states that these examinations are not under the civil service act and rules, but are held under the executive order of May 10, providing for such procedure.

Marine Strike End Seems Near

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 14.—The marine strike, which has been in effect since May 1, is well on the road to complete settlement today.

Chairman A. D. Lasker today affixed his signature to an agreement which ends the strike between the shipping board and the marine engineers. The agreement has been previously signed by W. S. Benson, a member of the shipping board and W. S. Brown, president of the marine engineers.

Under the terms of the settlement the marine workers accept a 15 per cent wage reduction, overtime is abolished and shore allowances are reduced. The agreement runs until April 30, 1922 and the unions are recognized.

AMERICAN COTTON GRADES ARE URGED

(International News Service)
LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND, June 14.—William Meadows, of the department of agriculture, in addressing the world cotton conference today advocated the universal adoption of the American system of standardizing cotton grading.

It was suggested that the conference appoint a committee to investigate the subject but decisive action was postponed. Italian delegates complained that American bankers were demanding too much security for loans for legitimate trade purposes. In response, R. S. Hecht, of New Orleans, defended the financial policy of America, saying that American bankers were afraid to take political risks.

Revival Meeting Largely Attended

The revival meeting which began Sunday in the First Baptist church of Albany, is attracting deep interest and large crowds are attending the services, according to the pastor Rev. R. E. Stuckey. The preaching for the meetings is being done by Rev. J. O. Williams, of Athens, pastor of the First Baptist church of that city. Rev. Williams is a brother of T. E. Williams of Albany and has visited here frequently. One of the strong features of the meeting is the congregational singing, which is led by an enthusiastic choir. It has been found necessary to enlarge the church auditorium, by opening up the numerous Sunday school rooms that surround and open into the auditorium. No call has yet been made for penitents but the interest at present manifested warrants large results before the end of this week.

Relief is Given To Unemployed

At a well attended meeting of Usona Lodge of Machinists held last night following the regular routine of business, committees were empowered to pay a number of bills, made by the relief committee, covering some cases of need on account of unemployment.

It Started Something

"Your medicine is the talk of the town since pulling me from the grave. I have told dozens about it and I know of at least ten who are now taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, all with good results. I never saw anything like it. One man who had been operated on for gall stones and had them come back, took it and says his symptoms are all gone now and he swears he is cured." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.—Adv.

YEAST FILLS OUT HOLLOW IN SUNKEN CHEEKS

Science finds that people become thin, weak, sickly because their food lacks one vitally necessary element called vitamins.

Yeast contains billions of vitamins and is great for building good solid flesh and muscle. People formerly ate yeast cakes but the best and easiest way to take vitamins into the system is to take Ironized Yeast which contains highly concentrated brewer's yeast (very effective) in tablet form. It also contains iron, the great blood builder, making the work of the vitamins doubly effective. Many say that with Ironized Yeast it is easy to gain as much as a pound a day. Quickly rids the skin of pimples, blackheads, etc.

The fact that such a reliable drug store as The Albany Drug Co. highly recommends Ironized Yeast indicates that it is well worth trying. Special directions for children in each package.—Adv.

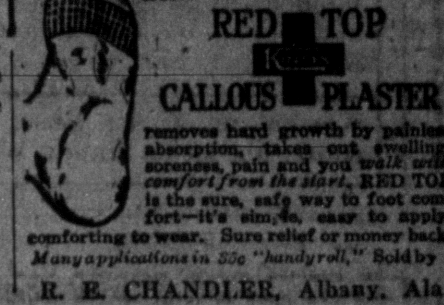

Biliousness is a condition that needs disease in the vital organs and ought to be corrected promptly. 'Ricky Ash Bitters' is a man's remedy. It vitalizes the blood, drives out impurities in the bowels, makes you feel right, strong and hearty. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

True Friendship.
But what is a friend? Someone said "it is another name for God," and he is right inasmuch as true friendship is almost divine. A true friend is one who unobtrusively, advises justly, assists readily, adventures boldly, takes all patiently, defends courageously and remains a friend, unchangeably. What a great blessing is a friend with a breast so true that we may safely bury all our secrets in it, whose conscience we may fear less than our own, who can relieve our cares by his conversation, our doubts by his counsels, our sadness by his good humor, and whose very looks give comfort to us.—Exchange.

Indications of Trouble.
Johnny—Did Moses have dyspepsia like what you've got?
Dad—How on earth do I know? Why do you ask such a question?
Johnny—Well, our Sunday school teacher says the Lord gave Moses two tablets.—London Mail.

Something Needed.
"There is some great force lacking in this country today," an exchange says. That's so, brother, but what is it? Frequently we have thought that it's a foolkiller who will remain permanently and actively on the job.—Boston Transcript.

In addition—it saves time—reduces and simplifies your work.

No matter how old or new your present cabinet may be, it will pay you to investigate this offer. At least, let us show you how the HOOISIER excels—and find out how liberal an allowance we will give you for your present cabinet.

Cook Bros. Furniture Co.

707-709 SECOND AVE., ALBANY, ALA.

Special Offer to present HOOISIER Owners

If you have had your HOOISIER ten years or more, here is our proposition. We will allow you the full price you paid for your HOOISIER when new, less $1.00 for each year you have had it.

This is possible because there is less depreciation in the value of the HOOISIER than any other household device. An old HOOISIER is worth more than many new cabinets. Think of it—this offer means that when you trade in your old HOOISIER you will have paid only $1.00 a year for the use you had out of the HOOISIER.

Have you ever heard of a more liberal offer.

FOUR Special Inducements

1 You pay no cash. Regardless of how old your present Cabinet may be, we will allow you from $5.00 to $20.00 for it.

2 You pay the balance in small weekly payments. No extra charge for these easy terms.

3 The regular low 1921 prices on the Hoosier prevail during this offer. These prices are fixed by the factory.

4 No interest charges — no extras. You pay the low factory price—less our liberal allowance for your present cabinet.

AMERICA READY TO WITHDRAW FORCES

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 14.—In a proclamation issued today at San Domingo by Rear Admiral Robinson, military governor of the republic, the United States announced its intention of withdrawing the American military forces from the republic as soon as a duly constituted government is ready to take over the administration of affairs.

With proper co-operation from the people it is hoped that the withdrawal can be accomplished in a period of 6 months, the proclamation stated.

The United States desires, the proclamation says, to assure itself before its withdrawal that the independence and territorial integrity of the republic, the maintenance of public order and the security of life and property, will be adequately safeguarded and to turn over the administration of the republic "to a responsible Dominican government duly established in accordance with the existing constitution and laws."

DEBT IS RAISED ON BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Powell leave today for an extended visit to relatives in Oklahoma. On his return from East St. Louis yesterday Dr. Powell said that he completed his church task there, which was to raise a $31,200 debt on a new church there and dedicate it. He said that the East St. Louis church made the 651st Baptist church he had dedicated since he started out as a minister at the close of the Civil war. He stated that the membership of the East St. Louis church was composed of working people, many of the membership being railroad workers.

One railroader, who had been laid off, made a donation of $500 to the church fund, according to Dr. Powell, which gift he said was considered the greatest one of all in point of faith, as the man had no idea when he would be returned to his job. A number of gifts of $1000 each.

Florida Tourists Will be Routed

easterners naturally write us while way to come. We want to direct them over the best roads. We have definitely decided to abandon the eastern route and the Bee Line route via Birmingham looks best to us.

200,000 Tourists.
The tourist travel between Florida and the east is well worth while. Over 400,000 persons passed through Jacksonville during the past winter seeking the several winter resort towns up and down the peninsula. About 200,000 of these came in automobiles. I have seen the tags of 20 different states on automobiles passing through Jacksonville headed south in less than two hours.

Birmingham, Decatur and Montgomery enjoy a golden opportunity in the chance to land this travel and it looks to me as if it is now feasible. If Mr. Dobbins' assurance pan out, there is no question about it."

STILL TAKEN.
MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 14.—(Special.)—One eighty-gallon copper still and sixteen gallons of liquor were seized in a raid by state constables on the Cleburne-Talladega line late in the week, according to a report received at the home office of the constabulary today.

WOMEN GIVE OUT

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Decatur woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Decatur woman's experience:

Mrs. Virginia Calvin, 1213 Fourth avenue, says: "I had just recovered from the grippe when I noticed my kidneys were in a weak and disordered condition. There was a painful sensation extending up into the neck of my bladder and I was in bed most all the time, up one day and down the next, and I felt miserable. I had large circles and puffy spots underneath my eyes, and all the remedies I tried brought me no relief. Finally, one of the family suggested me trying Doan's Kidney Pills and he got a supply at Dillehay Bros. Drug Store. I began using them and they soon made me feel much better."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Calvin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Don't expect to get through a hot summer of hard work without a sick spell, if you start with your system full of impurities. To avoid a breakdown in the busy season begin now taking Prickly Ash Bitters, the remedy for men. It will purify the blood, liver and bowels and put the system in healthy condition. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

TRAVEL AT TERRIFIC SPEED

Electrons Can Be Sent Through the Air at the Rate of 60,000 Miles a Second.

An airplane doing 200 miles an hour is considered to be a fairly speedy object, but its flight is cumbersome compared to another form of movement, a form that has been measured, and one that man can make at will. The 200 miles an hour becomes pale when it is known that man sends certain things at the rate of 60,000 miles a second, or more than twice around the world while a watch ticks. This is about one-third as fast as light travels, and if the objects mentioned could be directed they would reach the moon in four seconds.

The units thus created are electrons, and they have been sent at the terrific rate of speed mentioned in glass tubes from which a certain amount of air has been pumped. They are what Crookes called the "fourth state of matter," solid, liquid and gas, having long been familiar to every one. There is a theory now held by some scientists that these electrons are the basic matter of everything in, on or under the earth, the substance of which molecules and atoms are made, and that they are in themselves force or movement, that every one of them has been on or in the earth since the origin of time millions of years ago, and they always will be in some form or other—perhaps a diamond, perhaps a human being, perhaps a child's toy or part of a mountain or sea.

CRADLE OF THE HUMAN RACE

Seems to Be Ample Proof That Mid-Asian Plateau Was the Original Emigration Point.

Somewhere on the lofty mid-Asian plateau, scholars tell us, was the region whence the human race dispersed and was distributed. If the theory seems to cynics a little like a sentimental engraving, we have to trust the authorities. At any rate, in that now thinly populated district are the relics of early civilizations, earlier than any now known to history. It is significant that the most ancient civilized countries that we know, Babylonia, Chaldea and their successors and rivals, the peoples of the far-off foretimes in Asia Minor, Egypt, India, China are the frontiers or extensions of this central area, whence wave after wave of invasion has flowed immemorably. Man in the hunting stage has to follow the game for his food and his clothes. Therefore it is probable that Central Asia was the old home whence emigrated mammals whose descendants now live in other regions.

Old England's Twelfth Night.

Twelfth night is a time-honored festival in England, the chief feature of the evening being the cutting of a cake containing various small articles of special meaning. The incomparable Pepys rarely fails to make special reference to the date in his diary. He has been to see "Twelfth Night" and finds it "but a silly play, not relating at all to the name or day." At another time his wife and her company stay up all night to celebrate, but he merely chooses his piece of cake and goes to bed. Again he attends a great dinner on twelfth night, and as his piece of the cake contains a clove, "the mark of the knave," he slyly manages to stuff it into the slice taken by another man. A year or so later he celebrates the date with a simply gorgeous time at his own house, his guests staying all day and until midnight. He says: "In the evening I did bring out my cake—a noble cake—and there cut it into pieces with wine and good drink. . . . And so we were mighty merry till it was midnight; and, being moonshine and a fine frost, they went home. I lending some of them my coach to help to carry them."

Burials in "the Abbey."

Westminster Gazette: How many more burials will there be in Westminster abbey? Within its walls lie the remains of close on three thousand people, and so numerous are the monuments and memorials that it is impossible to prevent them jostling each other without the slightest pretensions to artistic arrangement. Both Westminster abbey and St. Paul's are excepted from the general prohibition of intramural interments, but the time has almost arrived when, from sheer want of space, no further burials will be possible in the abbey. It has been suggested that a national mausoleum should be provided by utilizing the old "undercroft" to the east of the Great Cloisters, part of which is the Chapel of the Pyx and part of the gymnasium of Westminster school. Though this is outside the abbey itself, it is in the abbey precincts.

Anxious to Help Brother.

A young woman in Denver had sought the advice of a woman friend with reference to the advisability of obtaining a divorce.

"Of course," said the friend, after a lengthy recital of the other's troubles had been communicated to her, "you've had your marital difficulties, just like the rest of us; but really, from what you have said, I shouldn't think you would be justified in taking this step. You have no other ground for seeking a divorce, have you?"

"To be perfectly frank," said the young woman, "in addition to all that I have told you, I have a brother who is a lawyer, and I am very anxious to give him something to do."

Jud Tunkins.

Jud Tunkins says some people never have any idea of pulling together unless the proposition is some kind of a political pull for their personal benefit.
